STOCK MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

Major international stock markets recorded mixed trading in March 2015. US stock markets recorded losses, whilst European stocks registered gains. The gains in European stocks followed the implementation of Quantitative Easing by the European Central Bank, which further suppressed interest rates, thereby, boosting stock prices.

The major African stock markets registered losses, with the exception of Nigeria which gained 5.5%. In line with most other African stock markets, the Zimbabwe stock market was also in decline, during the period under review. The industrial index fell from 167.16 points in February 2015 to 58.22 points in March 2015. Over the same period, the mining index also declined from 55.38 points to 43.93 points.

The decline in the industrial index was largely due to the bearish sentiments that were prevailing in the market. These sentiments resulted in losses, mainly in the heavyweight counters. The decline in the mining index was largely driven by losses in Bindura and Riozim.

Trading volumes rose by 240.15% to 405.89 million shares in March 2015, from 119.32 million shares in February. Developments in the volume of shares traded were largely influenced by special bargain trades in Dawn, as well as notable trades in Zimplow, Econet, CBZ and Innscor. Over the same period, however, market turnover declined from US$34.78 million to US$18.90 million.

Reflecting losses that were incurred by heavily capitalized counters, market capitalization fell from US$4 353.38 million in February 2015, to US$4 117.08 million in March 2015.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

Short term deposits, however, registered a decline of 2.58% over the same period. The structure of deposits remained largely the same with demand deposits accounting for 48.51%; long term, 20.32%; short term, 18.53%; and savings deposits, 12.61%.

INFLATION OUTTURN

Annual Inflation

Annual headline inflation remained in negative territory for the sixth consecutive month since October 2014. It, however, gained 0.2 percentage points to -1.2% in March 2015, from -1.4% in February 2015.

Source: Zimbabwe Statistics Agency

Annual food inflation also remained in negative territory at -2.74% in March 2015, from -2.87% in February 2015. The decline in annual food prices reflected decreases in prices of almost all items in the food basket.

The price of bread declined in response to depressed demand as reflected by the fall in daily bread sales from a million loaves in 2014 to 800 000 loaves in 2015. In addition, the introduction of bond coins in December 2014 also provided small change, which also led to the general reduction in prices.

Annual non-food inflation also declined to -0.44% in March, from -0.68% in February 2015. The decline was largely on the back of decreases in communication, furniture and equipment, transport, recreation and culture, restaurants and hotels, among others. Partially offsetting the decrease in annual non-food inflation were increases alcoholic beverages and tobacco, rentals for housing, as well as education.

The rationalization of voice call prices by operators in response to POTRAZ's call for realignment of tariffs with regional levels partly contributed to the decline in communication prices.

Against the background of constrained consumer spending, items such as furniture and equipment, recreation and cultural services, are relegated to periphery of consumer needs. As a result, prices fell in response to a decline in effective demand.

Monthly Inflation

Month-on-month inflation stood at -0.03% in March 2015, from -0.07% in February 2015. There were no significant changes in both food and non-food inflation. Declines were registered in the prices of clothing and footwear, as well as housing, water, electricity gas, and other fuels categories.

On a month to month basis prices for menswear and babycare products recorded the largest declines. The prices of household fuels, such as gas and charcoal also recorded declines from the February 2015 levels.

Partially offsetting the declines, were increases in the prices of bread and cereals category; milk, cheese and eggs; and confectionary items, among others. The falling maize stock levels in the country resulted in the increase in the price of mealie meal and other starch sources, which also had a significant impact on the bread and cereals subcategory.
