STOCK MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

Global stock markets recorded significant losses during the month of September 2015, largely driven by weak global growth. The sustained decline in commodity prices, coupled with currency devaluation by China and fears of a possible interest rate hike by the US were some of the underlying factors that impacted negatively on the performance of global stocks during the month under review.

Main African stock markets, however, recorded increases over the same period. Gains were recorded in Nigeria (5.2%), Kenya (2.9%) and South Africa (0.2%).

The Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) recorded losses during the month of September 2015, with the industrial index declining by 2.6%, from 135.4 points in August 2015 to 131.9 points in September 2015. A 11.0 points decline to 24.4 points in September 2015 was recorded for the mining index.

Trading volumes and values, however, increased during the month under review. The volume of traded shares increased from 76.2 million in August 2015 to 105.7 million in September 2015. Similarly, the value of shares traded rose from US$15.3 million in August 2015 to US$18.2 million in September 2015.

In line with the downward trend in industrial and mining indices, ZSE market capitalisation declined from US$3.6 billion in August 2015 to US$3.4 billion in September 2015.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

The annual broad money¹ supply growth rate rose from 3.5% in August 2015 to 4.5% in September 2015. On a monthly basis, broad money supply increased from US$4 473.0 million in August 2015 to US$4 586.0 million in September 2015.

Annual growth in broad money was driven by increases across all deposit classes, with the exception of short term deposits. Long term deposits registered the largest annual growth of 11.4%, followed by demand deposits, 4.8%; and savings deposits, 4.5%. Short term deposits, however, registered a decline of -3.7%.

Annual growth in total banking sector credit to the domestic economy increased to 19.0% in September 2015, from 18.8% in August 2015. On a monthly basis, banking sector credit rose from US$5 029.1 million in August 2015, to US$5 079.8 million in September 2015.

On an annual basis, growth in credit to the private sector which makes up the largest proportion of banking sector credit increased by 2.4% in September 2015, up from 1.4% in August 2015. Month-on-month, credit to the private sector also increased from US$3 780.6 million in August 2015, to US$3 844.0 million in September 2015.

In terms of distribution, loans and advances accounted for 83.1% of the total credit to the private sector, mortgages advanced by building societies, 12.5%; other investments, 3.8%; bankers' acceptances, 0.3%; and bills discounted, 0.2% in September 2015.

On a sectoral basis, credit was distributed as follows: agriculture (20.4%); distribution (15.1%); services including tourism (16%); manufacturing (14.4%); mining (5.9%); transport and communications (3.5%); and construction (1%). Credit to households constituted 19.7% of total credit to the private sector during the month under review.

Credit to the private sector was mainly channelled towards asset purchases, 43.6%; inventory build-up, 33.5%; consumer durables, 13.4%; and vehicle purchases, 3.3%. Capital development accounted for 4.6% of total loans and advances, broken down as follows: plant and equipment, 3.1%; land development and office equipment, 0.9% and 0.6%, respectively.

INFLATION OUTTURN

Annual Inflation

The annual headline inflation rate decelerated further to -3.11% in September 2015, from -2.77% recorded in August 2015, driven by declines in prices of both food and non-food items. Annual inflation has remained in negative territory since November 2014, due to the continued downward correction in the general price level.

Source: ZIMSTAT, 2015

The year-on-year food inflation stood at -3.72% in September 2015, shedding 0.13 percentage points from the -3.59% recorded in August 2015. All food subcategories recorded declines in September 2015. The largest declines were recorded for fruits, 5.7%; bread and cereals, 4.9%; meat, 3.8% and vegetables, 3.4%.

Annual non-food inflation decelerated from -2.4% in August 2015 to -2.8% in September 2015. The fall in non-food inflation was largely driven by declines in the housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels; communication; furniture, household equipment and maintenance and transport sub-categories.

Monthly Inflation

The month-on-month inflation rate for September 2015 stood at -0.36%, down from -0.31% recorded in August 2015. The decline in monthly inflation was attributable to the fall in the prices of non-food items. The slight increase in food inflation, however, partly offset the decline.

Monthly non-food inflation decelerated from -0.10% in August 2015 to -0.31% in September 2015. This followed declines in housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels; communication; furniture, household equipment and maintenance; and transport.

Monthly food inflation, however, rose from -0.75% in August 2015 to -0.47% in September 2015, largely driven by fruits, fish and seafood, meat; bread and cereals; oils and fats, and cheese and eggs sub-categories, among others.
